Lena Minton is a Human who's working toward earning her pilot's license.

Jarninda is the Durellian commander of a starship, a prince responsible for the lives of billions.

In the middle of a routine supply run, a vast asteroid smashes through the middle of Lena's ship, the Artaxerxes. Of the four crew members aboard, she is the lone survivor on an alien planet light years off course, lost and alone.

Aboard his ship, Kaliuse, Jarninda picks up a distress call in a common Human language and reacts immediately by tracking the signal down. The prince lands on the planet with his armed escort only to discover Lena, a Human he's in awe of.

Lena finds herself aboard an alien ship, caught between two factions, one that wants to destroy her life and another that wants to save her. It just so happens that the aliens who want her alive include Jarninda, the alien commander who is the most beautiful man she has ever seen.

Curiosity turns to attraction as the two discover each other, but another alien species is after Lena. Will the odd pair find love despite their differences, or will fate intervene and tear them apart?

Find out in Seized by the Alien Commander.

From Seized by the Alien Commander:

"I was in awe of you. I thought Humans were weak creatures – sorry – easily broken in body and mind, but you?" He squeezed her hand gently. "You would not give up. You would have wrestled that planet into submission or died trying." He smiled at the memory. "I think I loved you in that moment."

(...)

"We are bonded, and I love you. I would storm the gates of Hell if need be."

(...)

"I might have known there wouldn't be a happy ending," Lena grumbled. Halavon grinned at her.

"Oh, I do not know about that. We are renowned throughout the galaxy for our happy endings," she said.
